Cooper Tools Australia announces the release of new Lufkin Fibreglass long tapes.

As the official tape measure supplier to the field events of the 1996 Olympic Games, the Lufkin brand has always been synonymous with accuracy and quality. The new range of fibreglass long tapes maintain this tradition while adding practical features to make the task of measuring easier and more accurate.

The new range Lufkin fibreglass tapes comprise a 30m/100', 60m/200' and a 100m/330' tape. All blades have large clear graduations and are two sided, one side in metric and the other side with imperial markings. New design open 4 arm frame provides improved protection of the blade and does not trap dirt in the case, plus the "No Knuckle Buster" handle design helps to avoid skinned knuckles and has a bigger opening, making measuring while wearing gloves easier. The "No-Kink" 13mm fibreglass tape resists kinking while rewinding. A robust two position end hook allows for inside and outside measurements while the teeth on the end hook bites into surfaces for a better grip.
