Cooper Tools Australia announces the release of 2 new Vertical snips

Wiss has a brand heritage stretching back some 160 years. In that time Wiss aviation snips have led the market in design, quality and functionality. Now, in 2008, Wiss has introduced a pair of new compound action, right angle snips.

The M8R and M9R possess the same outstanding durability as all the other Wiss snips, but feature a right angle blade that allows greater reach in overhead and other awkward applications. And like every other Wiss compound action snip, the M8R and M9R have a unique blade edge, shaped to allow the material to set deeper and serrated to hold it tight during the cut.
